

The farm organism for planetary health

Deepen Biodynamics - Online course with Lin Bautze & Jean-Michel Florin, 12.09.2022 – 05.10.2022

Week II: Vegetation and soil

Exercise III, plant observation

Material

Paper

Pastel chalks/wax chalks or other colours

Preparation

Find a plant that calls to you

Exercise

- Be aware of the first impression you get when looking at the plant
- Look at the plant, from the bottom to the top and sketch this plant with a pastel chalk (or wax chalk) to observe closer how it grows in the space
- Then look at the plant from its environment (from around and from the top) and sketch now what is invisible around the plant, between the leaves, etc.

Closure

Close with a thank you, with a feeling of gratitude. Then write your observations in your notebook
