We are calling on all our Biodynamic member organisations and friends across the globe to help support young Asian Biodynamic farmers.

On October 21st-23rd the Asia Pacific Biodynamic Conference 2022 will be held in Raub Pahang, in Malaysia. This is the first conference of its kind and a major event for the biodynamic movement across the region. Biodynamic trainers and advisors, pioneering farmers, and key stakeholders from across Asia Pacific will be at the conference. It will be a unique opportunity for young and experienced BD farmers alike across the region to meet, network and to sow seeds for the long-term development of the Biodynamic movement in the region.

Our commitment is to make this conference as inclusive and representative of the different biodynamic initiatives in the region as possible. However, there are many biodynamic farmers across Asia who, for financial reasons, will struggle to attend the conference. Farmers from countries such as Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Myanmar, Nepal, Bhutan, Indonesia, Philippines and India need economic support to attend the conference.

Could you support a Biodynamic Farmer to attend the Conference?

All amounts for donations are welcome!

This is a call for solidarity and awareness of the challenges and needs faced by the biodynamic movement as it grows in new and diverse regions of the world. It is a call to connect as a global movement and support each other towards our common humanitarian goals. Thank you for your support!
